Saturday, 09 March 2019, 17:30h The Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood – did they just like to paint readheads?

Currently all young English female TV presenters have long red hair. The Pre-Raphaelite look is everywhere from tea towels to mouse pads. But the PRB had a strong religious agenda, rather like the Nazarenes but without the sandals. Rosemary Clegg shows us the paintings which don't appear on greetings cards.

Saturday, 23 March 2019, 17:30h Armenia and Georgia – early Christian countries

Peter von Kapri shows us the stunning monasteries, churches and cathedrals, amongst the oldest in the world, perched on mountain and hill tops. The scenery of the Caucasus is impressive, from Mount Ararat towering majestically over the skyline of Yerevan, to the gorges of Northern Georgia. Learn more about the wild and intriguing history of these former Soviet states, homelands of Christianity and European culture surrounded by Muslim nations, and now striving to join the EU.

Admission to Saturday lectures €3.00. Further information from Susan Jones ☎0211-3179322.
